Mycroft CEO Terry Jost Discusses Governance, Risk & Compliance on Meet The Boss Network

SAINT LOUIS, MISSOURI — November 11, 2010 — Today, Saint Louis based Information Security Service Provider Mycroft Incorporated announced the release of Chief Executive Officer Terry Jost's Interview on the popular Meet the Boss network. The interview is currently a featured video on Meet the Boss' Governance Channel.

Mycroft offers a complete lifecycle of Security and IT Managed Services including; Strategy & Assessments, Design & Implementation, Sustain Services, and Managed Security Services featuring 24x7x365 support from our Security Operations Centers.

The interview titled, "Good Governance Equals Better Business" provides an in depth look at the evolving business challenges and solutions associated with Enterprise Risk Management. While posing as just a casual sit down, the informative session presents some hard hitting facts and vital insight to the areas of information and cyber security, virtualization and managed security services.

As the CEO of a well-respected and industry-leading information security provider, Mr. Jost showcases a wealth of knowledge and experience in discussing current security strategies, implementations, and some of the toughest issues facing executives across industries including financial services, healthcare, and higher education. In its entirety, the interview is a compelling conversation about security, risk, and how Mycroft clients benefit from their solutions.

The interview is available at: Meet the Boss online, the Mycroft website at www.mycroftinc.com in both video and podcast form, and also on the company's YouTube Channel at www.youtube.com/MycroftMedia.
